1. Executive summary

The New York Future of Work Forum 2025 welcomed 810 attendees out of 1,094 confirmed registrations (1,167 registrations in total), a show-up rate of 74%. Attendees rated the program 3.72 out of 5 on average, for a net promoter score of -20. 12 sponsors took part; 8 of them met their lead target, and sponsors collected 2,347 leads against a combined target of 2,010. The event cost $105,200 against a budget of $94,000 (+11.9%).

2. Audience

The largest attendee groups were Consultant (150), Founder (140), Marketing Manager (137). Most attendees came from United States (31%), India (13%), Australia (12%).

3. Program highlights

The program ran 20 sessions. The highest-rated sessions were Finance with Isla Evans (rated 4.33, 86 attendees); Operations with Uma Chen (rated 4.20, 63 attendees); Marketing with Nikhil Walsh (rated 4.17, 131 attendees). The lowest-rated session was Sales with Nikhil Varga (rated 3.22). A highlight of the event: speed-mentoring sessions were fully booked within an hour.

4. Venue and operations

The main operational issue was that the chat moderation queue fell behind during the live Q&A. In response, two more moderators were added and questions were collected in advance.

Sponsor feedback: Sablewood Therapeutics asked for a speaking slot in the main track next year.

6. Lessons learned

Lesson: booth traffic dropped sharply after lunch. Recommendation for the next edition: move the expo hall next to the coffee stations so attendees pass the booths between sessions.
